

Written by Animal Angels Ltd, based in Hook Hampshire, who offer a professional pet and house sitting service throughout the UK.

We love this picture of Tara, one of three working black Labradors that our Angels look after in Reading. Her owner says it should be a pheasant in her mouth, but it's close! Anyway she's a happy girl and all the pets are as happy as Tara after they've had our lovely Angels taking care of them. Take a look at more happy pets!

Since it's early beginnings in a pet shop, Animal Angels has grown from strength to strength with Angels from the top of the Western Isles to the far West tip of Cornwall.

The Animal Angels office team are all pet owners and understand how hard it is to leave our precious pets when we need to go away, so we do our absolute best to find our clients and their pets the best sitter we can, so they can relax and have that all important peace of mind before they go away.

We talk to lots of pet owners everyday and they all have one thing in common; they all love their animals and want the best for them. This is our ultimate aim at Animal Angels and we hope that our new website conveys our passion for pets and a professional service that can be relied upon.

A big thank you to all our Angels who make all this possible and to our clients who support us, we hope that you enjoy our new website – please take a look and tell us what you think.

From the Animal Angels Team